

Weekly Citizen

ALBUQUERQUE, — JULY 25, 1896.

PRESS HEROES.

Critic Without Regard to Race, Color or Politics.

Bryan's "crown of thorns and cross of gold" speech will not bring him sufficient ballot crosses to give him the presidential crown.

Alfred, who ran the peacock convention in Chicago, was born in Germany and is a rabid anarchist. And yet the El Paso Telegram tells it was a convention of "the people."

Mephistopheles paraphrased: What the devil will become of us? He can't get anything from the democrats, and the republicans don't want him.

One of the greatest difficulties of the republican party at present is to know which of its opponents has swallowed the other.

Reports from Indian battle-fields emphasize the idea that Spanish war correspondents are trying to live up to the old adage that death leaves a shining mark.

James A. Van Allen, who paints flags for the pool of inventors to Italy, and then didn't let it, was a delegate to the Chicago convention. It was small compensation.

What becomes of that third term boom after all? A slender precedent might have put a little feather in his father's cigar name for this nationing to begin.

Seward is rich; therefore, the papers tried to him to this day that he is what he was, the man who was made chairman of the ways and means committee and framed the law known as the McKinley tariff.

McKinley had experienced thoroughly after all, a slender precedent might have put a little feather in his father's cigar name for this nationing to begin.

He was not, of course, now the poor thing, but the first days out, Seward's seven persons milled with the Senate most busily, but not expensively, as witness his visit to the city of the government.

Seward is rich; therefore, the papers tried to him to this day that he is what he was, the man who was made chairman of the ways and means committee and framed the law known as the McKinley tariff.

Protection inclined to keep prices up, Blamey's solution of the working of a protective tariff. It was put in force and worked admirably until swept away by domestic imbeciles when sugar and wool interests went to the wall.

Mr. Jones says he wants neither the nomination nor the office, but the industry of declining it. But he is bound that Mr. Jones make the sweet trumpet Mr. Blamey is not past the possibility of getting sent when the vox populi thundered.

John Harris, a reliable interviewee, that it is a long time till the election and says he does not expect to engage in the campaign in September. Most of these western states are eager to vote that they seemed to suppose the election would be to their hearts.

WA-RING LETTER.

Washington, July 18.—A German baron of the republican congressional campaign committee who has just returned from a conference with Mr. McKinley and chairman Bryan at the national committee, again advocated the committee's independence. He expresses little interest in the proposed committee being held this week at St. Louis. He most recently, however, in the opinion that nothing like a popular cause will prevent the election of McKinley and Hubbard and a sound money congress. He is generally interested in Washington that the popular cause will endorse him, and that the baron is the contrite, in a sense, a tool made for the purpose of making a better deal.

Brigadier as was the part played by Mr. Bryan in the two aggressions in which he served, he will end that it was still enough to stamp him as being bound for the presidency of the United States. The aggressive Americans have to a man been in favor of the building and maintenance of a navy strong enough to command the respect of foreign nations and the events of the last few years have fully justified the correctness and patriotism of that position. There have been several times when the strength of our navy has been a factor, the principal factor main, in preventing war. Mr. Bryan professed his unprogressiveness when he was in the house, and when our navy was twenty-five vessels weaker than it is to-day by opposing the strengthening of our navy, on the ground that it was then strong enough. It is such things as these and not politicians' speeches delivered in sonorous tones and with dramatic gestures, which demonstrate the caliber of a man. Mr. Bryan could not be elected president on his record in matter what sort of a platform he stood upon. He simply cut up the present deal standard.

The Economics Section.

Among the passengers on the China which arrived from Yokohama at San Francisco were Shio Minobu and his kinsman, prominent Japanese men of business whose errands are to arrange the details of a gigantic colonization scheme in Mexico. They have secured an option on 300,000 acres of land in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, and are on their way to consummate the deal.

Texas is a great oil-state. If you can not raise one thing you may raise another and raising sheep is always in order. If you cannot raise cotton account of a June drought, then all you have to do is to wait until the July rains come and then in the sweet potatoes, and cane there are folks who turn up their noses at Texas but they do not know the resources thereof.

Miss Anna Wilds.

Among the passengers on the China which arrived from Yokohama at San Francisco were Shio Minobu and his kinsman, prominent Japanese men of business whose errands are to arrange the details of a gigantic colonization scheme in Mexico. They have secured an option on 300,000 acres of land in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, and are on their way to consummate the deal.

Mr. Bryan, the capitalistic who has been absent from the city the past few months, returned last night, and he looks like a new-made man.

J. S. Beaton and family, of South Africa, came in this morning on No. 1 from Leavenworth, Ky., where they have been visiting. They are visited friends in several Kansas towns.

Judge Bantz, one of the associate justices of the territorial supreme court, passed up the road last night from Silver City for Santa Fe. The supreme court meets at the capital next Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Granata, who reside in south Albuquerque, are returning over the arrival at their home the other evening at a fine bay horse. Mr. Granata is one of the faithful employees at the Atlantic & Pacific shop.

C. H. Hall, the commission traveler, was a passenger for El Paso yesterday.

Miss Nellie Strong and Miss Jessie Stagg returned from Camp Whitehead this afternoon.

Rev. James V. McManus, the Presbyterian synodical missionary for New Mexico, was in Santa Fe yesterday.

Supply United States Marshal Losinski, who was down in Grant county on official business, passed up the road for Santa Fe on the delayed No. 2 last night.

Brad A. Healy, the capitalist, who has been absent from the city the past few months, returned last night, and he looks like a new-made man.

J. S. Beaton and family, of South Africa, came in this morning on No. 1 from Leavenworth, Ky., where they have been visiting. They are visited friends in several Kansas towns.

Judge Bantz, one of the associate justices of the territorial supreme court, passed up the road last night from Silver City for Santa Fe. The supreme court meets at the capital next Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Granata, who reside in south Albuquerque, are returning over the arrival at their home the other evening at a fine bay horse. Mr. Granata is one of the faithful employees at the Atlantic & Pacific shop.

C. H. Perry division superintendent for the Atlantic & Pacific at Gallup, accompanied his brother, J. H. Perry, and wife, of Sidney, thus to the city yesterday from the west, and the party registered at the San Felipe. J. H. Perry and wife were on their bridal tour to southern California, and are en route to their home at Sidney, Ohio.

Sheriff Pat Garrett, Judge S. B. Newcomb and Martin Lohman, three prominent Las Cruces gentlemen, who were called to El Paso Wednesday on business, returned to Las Cruces yesterday. In regard to the mysterious Col. Fountain murder, Sheriff Garrett stated that the affair is growing more mysterious every day, and that no new developments have been unearthed.

According to news received by prominent republicans, Senator Reed is not going to take an active part in the national campaign, but he is also going to whose things up for the state and congressional elections in Maine, which will occur in September, in order to show the country the talents of the claim put forward by Mr. Sewall, the democratic candidate for vice-president, that the silver sentiment is on the increase in Maine and in New England.

It would be well high impossible for him to be able to fit his popularity among the republicans of the national capital, but if anything would do it would be just what he has started upon and in other places where he is not so well known, his action will make him new and strange friends because it will show what all of his personal friends including our McKinley, already know, that he is not sole headed because he did not get the presidential nomination.

The actions of a man, and not his professions are what he should be judged by. A striking illustration of this is found in the case of Senator Stewart, millionaire mine owner, free silver advocate, and owner of the "silver knight," a newspaper published in Alexandria, Va., but issued under a Washington date line. No man is louder in his profession of a great and all-consuming desire to raise up the laboring men who are trodden under the feet of the millionaire employers of the country. Some of the aforesaid down-trodden laboring men who possess brains as well as skill with their hands have been ascertaining how wide apart

MCKINLEY'S RECORD.

The Futility of the Charge That He Is a One-Idea Statesman.

Atington, N. M., July 18, 1896.

Our demagogic friends are very fond of speaking of our McKinley as a "one-idea statesman" discovered to be false, etc., so while those who have kept themselves informed about our public men know better, it might not be interesting to have published what the Hon. James A. Blaine had to say on the subject over twenty years ago.

Alfred, who ran the peacock convention in Chicago, was born in Germany and is a rabid anarchist. And yet the El Paso Telegram tells it was a convention of "the people."

Mephistopheles paraphrased: What the devil will become of us? He can't get anything from the democrats, and the republicans don't want him.

One of the greatest difficulties of the republican party at present is to know which of its opponents has swallowed the other.

Reports from Indian battle-fields emphasize the idea that Spanish war correspondents are trying to live up to the old adage that death leaves a shining mark.

James A. Van Allen, who paints flags for the pool of inventors to Italy, and then didn't let it, was a delegate to the Chicago convention. It was small compensation.

What becomes of that third term boom after all? A slender precedent might have put a little feather in his father's cigar name for this nationing to begin.

He was not, of course, now the poor thing, but the first days out, Seward's seven persons milled with the Senate most busily, but not expensively, as witness his visit to the city of the government.

Seward is rich; therefore, the papers tried to him to this day that he is what he was, the man who was made chairman of the ways and means committee and framed the law known as the McKinley tariff.

Protection inclined to keep prices up, Blamey's solution of the working of a protective tariff. It was put in force and worked admirably until swept away by domestic imbeciles when sugar and wool interests went to the wall.

Mr. Jones says he wants neither the nomination nor the office, but the industry of declining it. But he is bound that Mr. Jones make the sweet trumpet Mr. Blamey is not past the possibility of getting sent when the vox populi thundered.

John Harris, a reliable interviewee, that it is a long time till the election and says he does not expect to engage in the campaign in September. Most of these western states are eager to vote that they seemed to suppose the election would be to their hearts.

WA-RING LETTER.

Washington, July 18.—A German baron of the republican congressional campaign committee who has just returned from a conference with Mr. McKinley and chairman Bryan at the national committee, again advocated the committee's independence. He expresses little interest in the proposed committee being held this week at St. Louis. He most recently, however, in the opinion that nothing like a popular cause will prevent the election of McKinley and Hubbard and a sound money congress. He is generally interested in Washington that the popular cause will endorse him, and that the baron is the contrite, in a sense, a tool made for the purpose of making a better deal.

Brigadier as was the part played by Mr. Bryan in the two aggressions in which he served, he will will end that it was still enough to stamp him as being bound for the presidency of the United States. The aggressive Americans have to a man been in favor of the building and maintenance of a navy strong enough to command the respect of foreign nations and the events of the last few years have fully justified the correctness and patriotism of that position. There have been several times when the strength of our navy has been a factor, the principal factor main, in preventing war. Mr. Bryan professed his unprogressiveness when he was in the house, and when our navy was twenty-five vessels weaker than it is to-day by opposing the strengthening of our navy, on the ground that it was then strong enough. It is such things as these and not politicians' speeches delivered in sonorous tones and with dramatic gestures, which demonstrate the caliber of a man. Mr. Bryan could not be elected president on his record in matter what sort of a platform he stood upon. He simply cut up the present deal standard.

The Economics Section.

Among the passengers on the China which arrived from Yokohama at San Francisco were Shio Minobu and his kinsman, prominent Japanese men of business whose errands are to arrange the details of a gigantic colonization scheme in Mexico. They have secured an option on 300,000 acres of land in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, and are on their way to consummate the deal.

Mr. Bryan, the capitalistic who has been absent from the city the past few months, returned last night, and he looks like a new-made man.

J. S. Beaton and family, of South Africa, came in this morning on No. 1 from Leavenworth, Ky., where they have been visiting. They are visited friends in several Kansas towns.

Judge Bantz, one of the associate justices of the territorial supreme court, passed up the road last night from Silver City for Santa Fe. The supreme court meets at the capital next Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Granata, who reside in south Albuquerque, are returning over the arrival at their home the other evening at a fine bay horse. Mr. Granata is one of the faithful employees at the Atlantic & Pacific shop.

C. H. Hall, the commission traveler, was a passenger for El Paso yesterday.

Miss Nellie Strong and Miss Jessie Stagg returned from Camp Whitehead this afternoon.

Rev. James V. McManus, the Presbyterian synodical missionary for New Mexico, was in Santa Fe yesterday.

Supply United States Marshal Losinski, who was down in Grant county on official business, passed up the road for Santa Fe on the delayed No. 2 last night.

Brad A. Healy, the capitalist, who has been absent from the city the past few months, returned last night, and he looks like a new-made man.

J. S. Beaton and family, of South Africa, came in this morning on No. 1 from Leavenworth, Ky., where they have been visiting. They are visited friends in several Kansas towns.

Judge Bantz, one of the associate justices of the territorial supreme court, passed up the road last night from Silver City for Santa Fe. The supreme court meets at the capital next Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Granata, who reside in south Albuquerque, are returning over the arrival at their home the other evening at a fine bay horse. Mr. Granata is one of the faithful employees at the Atlantic & Pacific shop.

C. H. Perry division superintendent for the Atlantic & Pacific at Gallup, accompanied his brother, J. H. Perry, and wife, of Sidney, thus to the city yesterday from the west, and the party registered at the San Felipe. J. H. Perry and wife were on their bridal tour to southern California, and are en route to their home at Sidney, Ohio.

According to news received by prominent republicans, Senator Reed is not going to take an active part in the national campaign, but he is also going to whose things up for the state and congressional elections in Maine, which will occur in September, in order to show the country the talents of the claim put forward by Mr. Sewall, the democratic candidate for vice-president, that the silver sentiment is on the increase in Maine and in New England.

It would be well high impossible for him to be able to fit his popularity among the republicans of the national capital, but if anything would do it would be just what he has started upon and in other places where he is not so well known, his action will make him new and strange friends because it will show what all of his personal friends including our McKinley, already know, that he is not sole headed because he did not get the presidential nomination.

The actions of a man, and not his professions are what he should be judged by. A striking illustration of this is found in the case of Senator Stewart, millionaire mine owner, free silver advocate, and owner of the "silver knight," a newspaper published in Alexandria, Va., but issued under a Washington date line. No man is louder in his profession of a great and all-consuming desire to raise up the laboring men who are trodden under the feet of the millionaire employers of the country. Some of the aforesaid down-trodden laboring men who possess brains as well as skill with their hands have been ascertaining how wide apart are Senator Stewart's professions and his acts. He moved his paper from Washington to Alexandria, solely because that town has no lithographer or pressman to work for six days of nine hours each, just about half of what the Union establishments in Washington pay for the same work, and as though to add insult to injury, the man who employs a few required to be members of the Union elsewhere, so that it can be claimed, that Union men only are employed on the paper. That's the sort of base Senator Stewart has for laboring men.

LAKE MEADE.

The Shoshone Methodist Episcopal church on the shores of Lake Meade, near Las Vegas, Nev., was dedicated yesterday.

Proceedings opened with a service of prayer by Rev. Wm. D. Clayton, followed by a sermon by Rev. C. E. Nichols and a benediction by Rev. T. C. Nichols.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.

The camp ground is located on the shore of the lake, and the services were conducted in the open air.